BISHOP VISITS MEMORIAL METHODIST

Sunday was a great day at the Memorial Methodist Church here. Bishop Paul N. Garber, resident Bishop of Virginia and Western North Carolina, paid a surprise visit to the congregation last Sunday, and delivered a Meditation on the World-wide Communion Sunday. He was accompanied from Richmond by the Rev. James E. Scott, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Conference Commission on Church Work.

The Bishop related some of his inspiring experiences as Bishop of the Geneva Area, Switzerland, just following World War II, and called upon the membership to share the sacrificial spirit of their fellow Christians around the world in building the Kingdom of God here on earth. It was an unexpectedly high moment for Memorial Church to have the Bishop honor it with a visit.

Fall Revival services will be held at Memorial October 25 - November 1, with a different minister giving a ringing challenge for Christian discipleship at each of the services during the week. The public is cordially invited to plan to be present for these services, and every member of Memorial is urged to join in making this week one of truly great inspirational weeks of the entire church year. The fall services are a part of the United Methodist Total Enlistment Emphasis being carried on in every Methodist Church throughout the nation.

Dr. John F. Owens, District Superintendent of Lynchbur District, will be the guest speaker for the opening service on October 25, at 11 o'clock.

Rev. W. F. Rogers, Missionary to Brazil, will be the main speaker at the Appomattox Zone Missionary Rally to be held in the Memorial Church October 20, with the District Superintendent, in charge. The fifteen Methodist Churches in this area will participate. The public is cordially invited to hear this outstanding missionary speaker. .
